sport, holiday, entertainment chs assembly schedule

every year we have a variety of assemblies, but the favorite of these has to be the pep assembly because here we see the talent of our fellow students. it gives them a chance to express to the team and student body in a funny but very meaningful way their feelings . . .

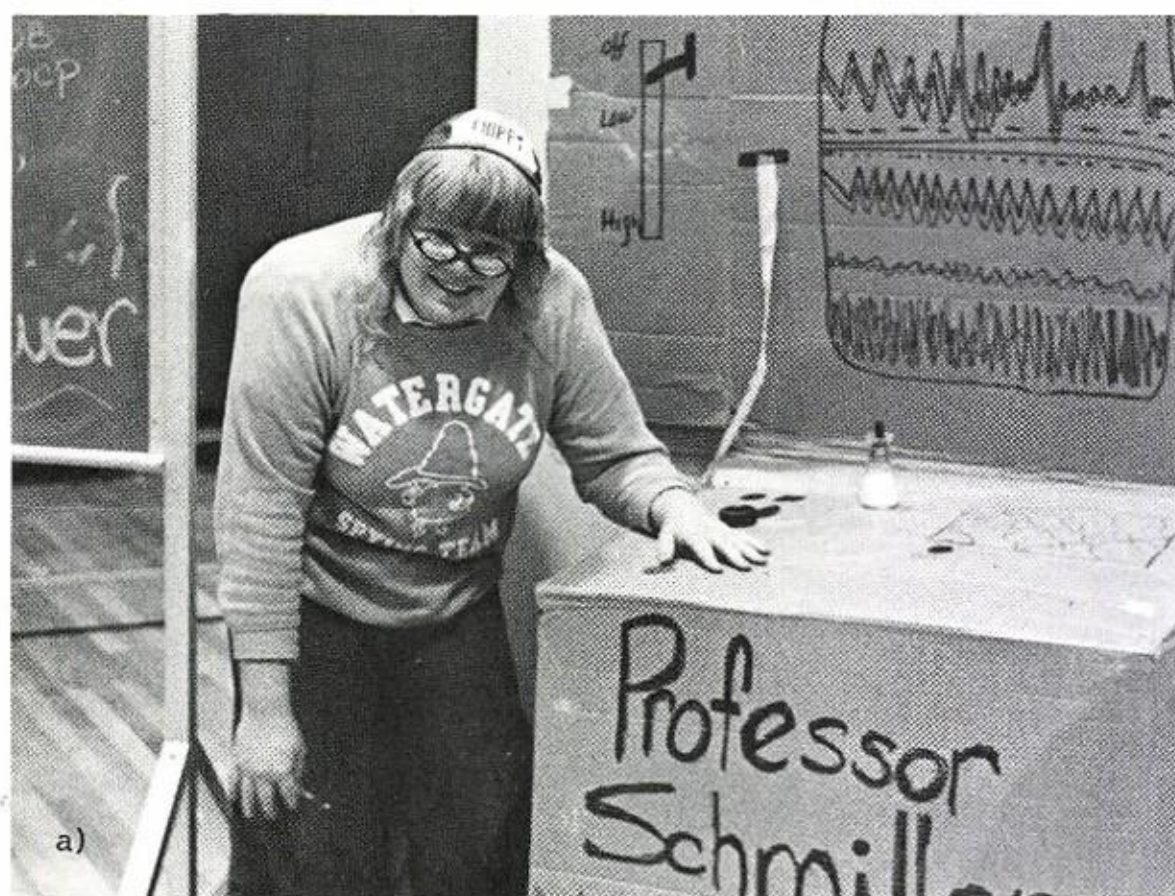

to give the students a rest from their usual school-day routine there were also special assemblies such as a rock band performance, a man who demonstrated basic skills on a trampoline, and even a ventriloquist. these plus the traditional holiday chapels made up most of this years assemblies.

sports

their desire, dedication and spirit.

the team was young and coach miller was new. they all worked together yet the friday night performances ended in defeat. the men who made the 1973 football team never gave up, for their desire to win, dedication and spirit burned. the light shone through half the season. the last five games were theirs. chs was proud, and as the senior men ended their high school football career, they could say, "we won"

homecoming rings at midnight hour

homecoming 1973 began as the queen and her court were escorted down the field as the band played "if". the queen was crowned and the players returned to the field to meet smithville. the game was spirited, exciting, and victorious. over sixty couples attended the dance saturday night, and as they listened to music by "johnny showboat and trust," the theme of midnight hour echoed through the evening. 1973 homecoming court, shelly clark, freshman; jean garcia sophomore; pat rohr, junior; gail miller, senior; and the 1973 homecoming queen, jayne daniel.

chipps football 1973

wrestling "73"- "74"

the 1973-1974 wrestling team which consisted of many underclassmen had a good year, one that will give the future varsity wrestlers a lot of experience on the mats.

headed by new principal, robert herbst, chipp faculty flourishes

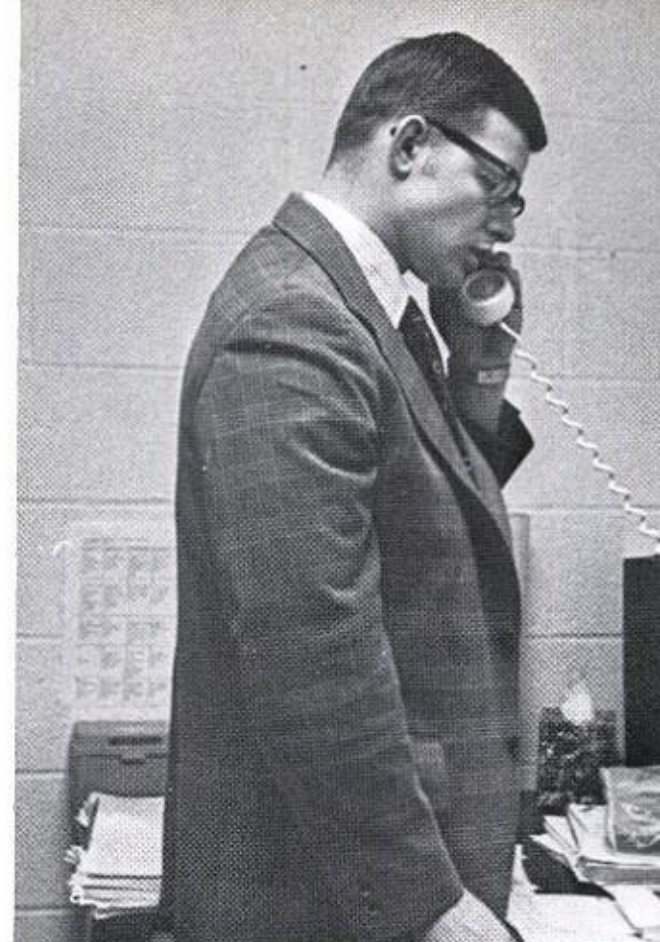

the 1973-74 school year saw changes in administration. mr. harris, principal for three years, left, to be replaced by robert herbst, our former math teacher. mr. ron bash was hired as assistant principal, but left mid-year to fill the position of middle school principal.

among the new teachers were dennis lloyd - driver education; steve caples - skills and basic english; mary lou maier - girl's physical education and health; tom buch - math; and gary dannemiller - general math and earth science.

throughout the year, our faculty was joined by student teachers. miss horning and miss blachley taught in the home ec department, and mr. hupp taught business.

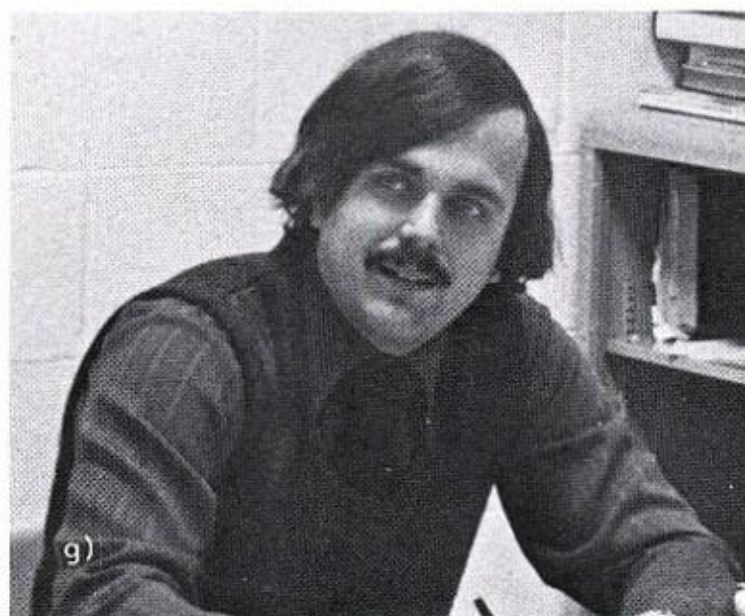

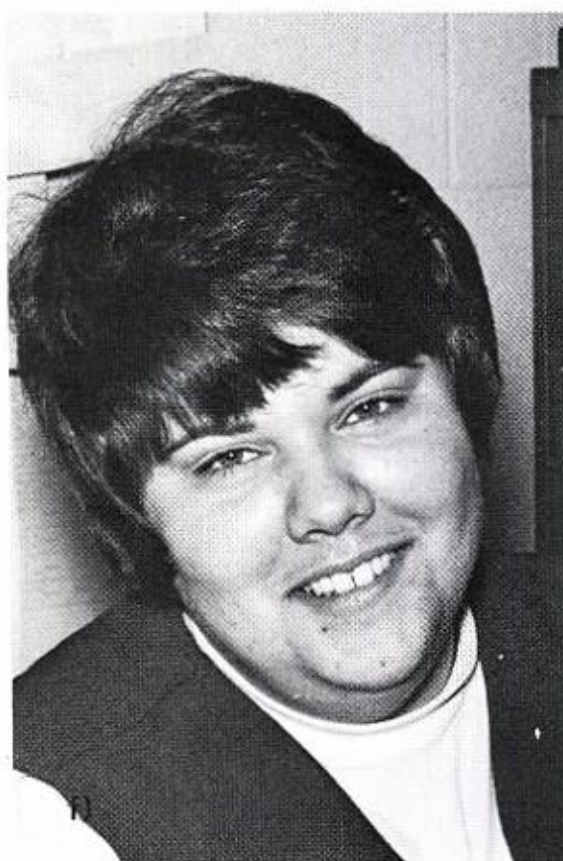

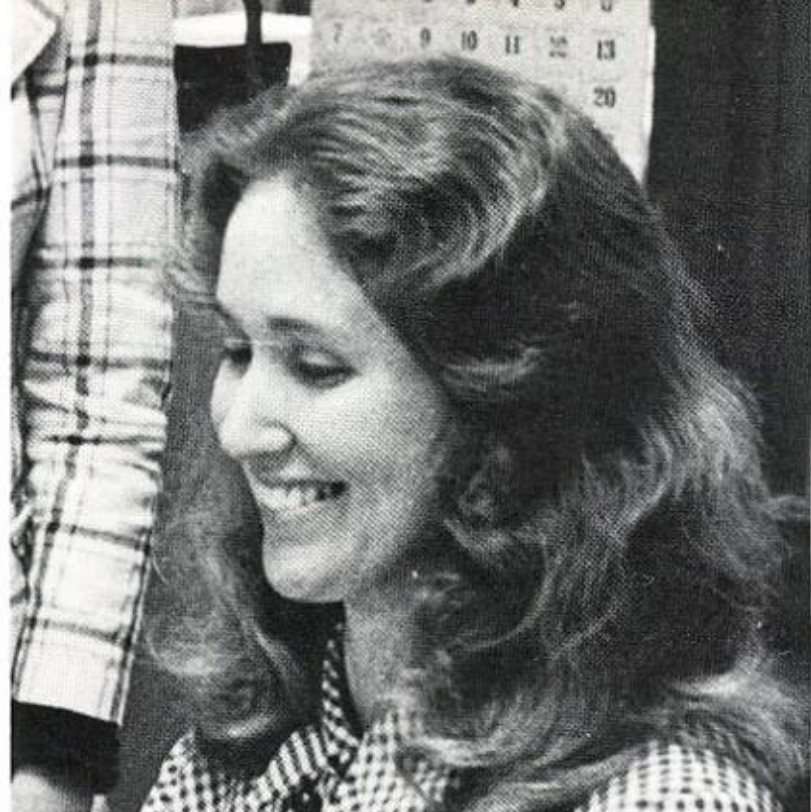

the school board also saw changes during the year. robert williams was replaced by jack foster and ida lecksan became president.

opportunity has no limits for students attending wcjvs

the thirty different trade areas offered at the wayne county joint vocational school cover a wide variety of careers in the professional field. students are involved in programs ranging from child care and accounting to auto body.

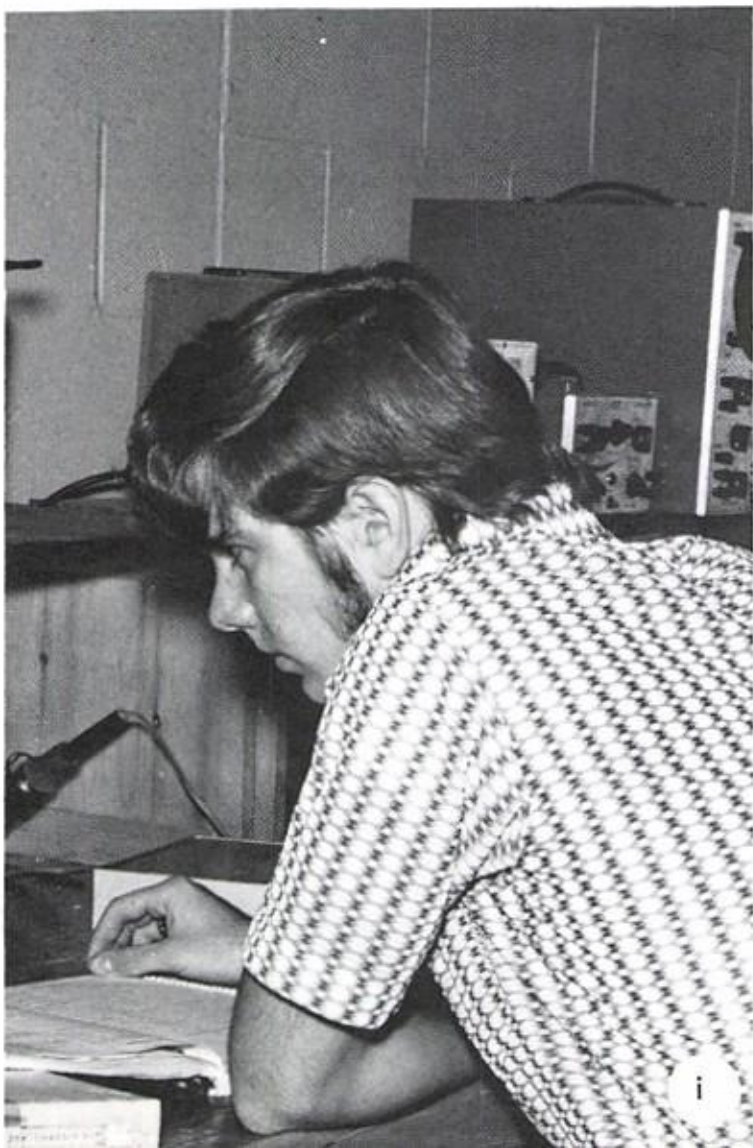

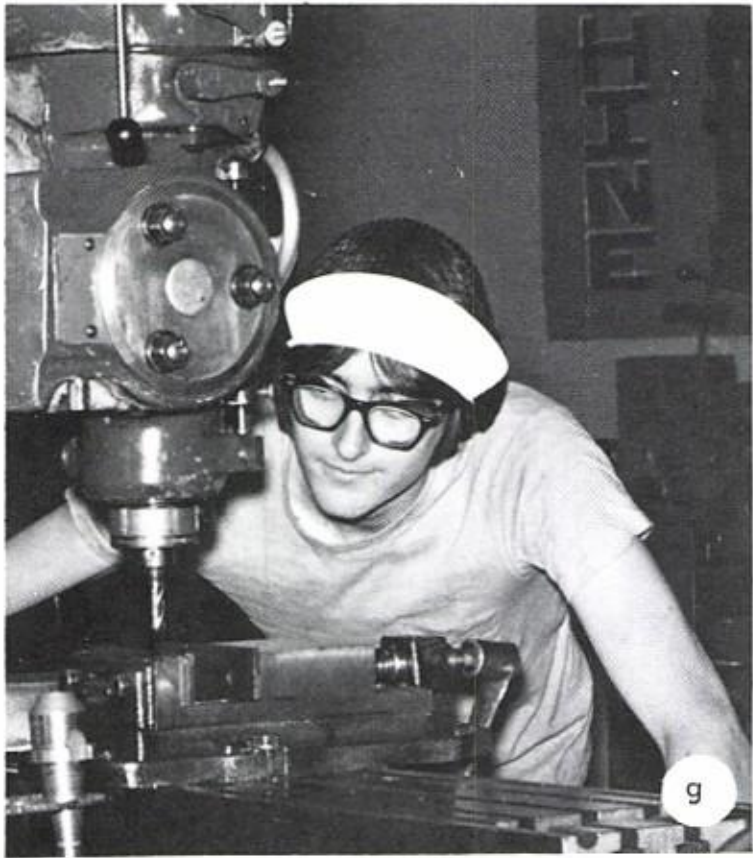

the 1973-74 school year was successful for chippewa students attending wejvs. during march, at the cuyahoga valley joint vocational school, two chipp students, members of vocational industrial clubs of america (vica) were involved in regional competition. becky wooster and deb speicher each took a bronze award in drafting. ken treadway took fourth place in a regional competition in accounting which was held at the jvs in march.

A Time for Reflection

Graduation is a time for congratulations, and Rubbermaid congratulates you for a course of study completed and a worthwhile ambition kept.

But this is also a time for reflection and dreams that belong to no one but you. May those dreams be as high and as purposeful as the hopes we place with you on Graduation Day.
